Gratitude Month

GRATITUDE MONTH OUR CHANCE TO SAY "THANK YOU!"

"The idea is in the air that A.A. might adopt Thanks-giving week as a time for meetings and meditation on the Traditions," A.A. co-founder Bill W. wrote in the November 1949 issue of the Grapevine (The Language of the Heart, p.95) shortly after publication of the Twelve Traditions. In fact, the idea had already taken hold earlier in the decade when, each fall, the General Service Board hosted small Gratitude Dinners – precursors of the larger, more elaborate Gratitude Luncheons that would be held during the '60s as an initiative of the trustees' Public Information Committee.

GRATITUDE

When God brought me to Alcoholics Anonymous the concept of gratitude was a foreign as the idea of stopping drinking. The idea of looking for what I had instead of what I didn't have was completely out of character. I knew every sad and bad thing that had ever happened to me and to those I loved. I could recite chapter and verse every tragic wrong done to me or by me. I was overwhelmed by lack, emptiness, fear, resentment and shame. At one of my first meetings, I heard the idea of gratitude and became instantly unwilling

The Del Rio Survivors

I am a meeting gypsy. I love going to different meetings and getting to know different people in my valley. I enjoy our AA meeting rooms. I love the sayings on the walls, I love the plastic tables, and I love our coffee! Most of all, I love us. I am grateful to know so many of us.

GRATITUDE MONTH OUR CHANCE TO SAY “THANK YOU!”

CONTINUED

The first official recognition of an A.A. Gratitude Week, specifically designed to coincide with Thanksgiving week in the U.S. (Canada celebrates in October), occurred in 1956, when the Sixth General Service Conference approved the motion, stipulating that “this action be noted in the annual pre-Thanksgiving appeals to the groups for funds to help support A.A.’s worldwide services. “Three years later, Bill urged in a letter, “Gratitude should go forward, rather than backward ... if you carry the message to still others, you will be making the best possible repayment for the help given to you. “ (As Bill Sees It, p.29).

The motivation behind A.A.’s Gratitude Lunches was threefold: to express personal gratefulness for the gift of sobriety; to carry the message of A.A. to other alcoholics; and to express appreciation to our professional friends for their numerous articles, books and radio and TV interviews relating to A.A. in the year just past. It was hoped, in the words of a General Service Office memo circulated at the time, that the luncheons would “advance A.A.’s public relations by bringing editors, publishers, writers and broadcasters in personal contact with sources of reliable information on the movement.”

Held without fail in November at New York City’s Roosevelt Hotel, the luncheons were always well-attend-ed. A typical list of invitees to the 1965 luncheon included representatives of The New York Times, McCall’s Magazine, Medical World News and The Christian Science Monitor. Bill W. always addressed the gatherings, as did the late “Dr. Jack” Norris, then serving as A.A.’s Class A (nonalcoholic) trustee chairman. A discussion period followed the proceedings, an ample selection of A.A. literature was available for the taking, and in 1965 Bill sent an autographed copy of A.A. Comes of Age to every guest.

The luncheons were discontinued in 1968, but the concept of gratitude persisted and expanded in scope. For decades now, A.A.’s in the U.S. have set aside all of November as Gratitude Month – marking the occasion with special contributions to G.S.O. In the spirit of the Seventh Tradition, A.A. is self-supporting through its members’ contributions, and frequently turns away money from well-meaning outside contributors. This means that the active input of every A.A. is vital to the Fellowship.

Grateful for the sobriety they’ve been given and eager to pass it on, A.A.s are busier than ever in Twelfth Stepping and service. They are reaching out in greater numbers to Loners, people with special needs, members of minority groups and previously unreached alcoholics. It is clear from their sharing that an overwhelming number of A.A.s – along with many of our professional friends – find their own special ways to say thank you during Gratitude Month and, indeed, all year long. Writes one member: “Enclosed is a check for Gratitude Month, because I want A.A. to be there for all those who need it, just as I did. “From another: “The enclosed check is from my own pocket, to help groups in correctional facilities like mine. Some of us are struggling to turn our lives around. We begin the process in here ourselves, and by reaching out. “And a nonalcoholic missionary wrote from India, “It is a matter of great encouragement and satisfaction that your A.A. has been a rich resource of guidance, help and light for a number of organizations dealing with problems related to alcohol.”

Besides observing Gratitude Month, many a member uses the A.A. Birthday Plan “to give back what’s been given to me,” as one wrote. And from another fateful A.A.: “I want to say thanks today for my life and my family’s – or all of us alcoholics in recovery,” he wrote. “Enclosed is an anniversary check, because I want the hand of A.A. to be there for all who need it.” Like him, many members celebrate their A.A. birthdays by sending in a gratitude gift to G.S.O. – usually a dollar or two for each year of sobriety. Some groups follow this Birthday Plan by collecting contributions from members on a voluntary basis throughout the year, or until the number of dollars matches the member’s total years of sobriety.

GRATITUDE MONTH OUR CHANCE TO SAY “THANK YOU!” CONTINUED

On the group’s anniversary, the money collected is sent to G.S.O. as a birthday contribution. Gratitude. It’s a weighty, high-dignity word, but in truth its close companions are humor and joy. As Bill W. observed early on in the Big Book (p.132), “Outsiders are sometimes shocked when we burst into merriment over a seemingly tragic experience out of the past. But why shouldn’t we laugh? We have recovered, and have been given the power to help others.” What greater cause can there be for rejoicing than this?

to consider that I had anything for which I was grateful. Although I was happy to be in AA, the darkness of alcoholic thinking permeated every thought.

Fast forward a few months. I now have a sponsor who is happy “all the time”, is always talking about how grateful he is, and doesn’t take my problems very seriously. When I run to him with some new crisis, he calmly says “Well, Doll, keep coming, you’ll get better”. At first I resisted his simple response to my dilemma. One day I actually complained to him loud and clear about something and he tells me to write a daily gratitude list: ten things I am grateful for, no items could be repeated until I reached 100 (ten whole days). At first, I had to be helped to find things to put on my list. I would call him and he would say, “Can you see, hear, walk? Did you eat today? Have you had a drink today? Have you thought of the people who have reached out to you in AA?” All so simple, but so removed from my immediate awareness.

Slowly, I began to get the hand of this gratitude thing. Sometimes however, I didn’t feel grateful and I would once again call him with my tale of woe. Calmly he told me that gratitude had nothing to do with feelings. Gratitude was an action, and one that would make me happier every day I made the decision to look for what was working in my life. My gratitude began to increase with each passing day, and as the days increased in number, I began to feel the amazing healing power of blessing what I had so wonderfully received though out my life, good and bad.

The real test for gratitude came not in the early days of sobriety, but at 12 years, I was struck by a near fatal illness; which affected not only my body but also my mind. Gratitude would not be called up from anywhere. Despair, hopelessness, terror became my constant companions and nothing anyone said or did relieved me to the bondage of self. I was at a lower bottom than ever. One day, while I was in hospice, an AA member visited me and through my drugged haze, I heard her say that I should be grateful. There was that idea again. Now here I am in my darkest day, and she is telling me to be grateful. Somewhere deep inside the idea came to life that I could find one thing I appreciated each day. I did not feel grateful, but I did remember the concept that feelings are not facts and dug each day for one thing I could just appreciate. I didn’t want to do it, I did it anyway. I felt not one whit better. AA had given me the ability to do something I didn’t feel like doing.

Today, I have an overwhelming sense of gratitude. I walk around seeing blessings in everything, every situation. I also seem to have developed that 6th sense that tells me when I can’t find something good in a situation, then the problem is with my perception and connecting with my Higher Power can reframe my thoughts and feelings. Each day I am aware of the phenomenal life I lead, I find my life full of humor and joy. I can be grateful for someone else when they are in the darkness. My deepest gratitude is for the awareness that when I put my relationship with a Higher Power before everything else in my life and ask that Power to reveal Itself to me, all is well and all shall be well. Thank you AA for giving me a life.

You only know half the story

The man who held the door open for you on your way to the meeting this morning hasn't seen his kids in three years - and it breaks his heart every day.

The person leading the meeting can't afford to buy lunch this afternoon after the meeting.

The woman who read the promises goes home to a hostile, drunken husband - and still she is trying to stay sober.

The kind person who found a seat for you can't find a job.

The woman next to you is raising her grandchildren born to her drug-addicted, alcoholic daughter.

The young person, who is sharing endlessly until someone rings the bell to stop him, is weighed down by guilt and can't seem to stay sober. If he doesn't hear from God in this meeting, he will take his life tonight.

The man, who stepped on your toe as he shuffled in late, slept out on the street last night and hasn't had breakfast since Thursday.

The teenage girl wearing too much makeup and laughing too loudly had a fight with her drunken father last night - she lost again.

The single mom who seemed so tired and worn used all her strength to get her kids to school this morning. She couldn't afford a babysitter for her youngest and was told not to bring her baby to the meeting - so she had to turn around and went back home.

Excuse the man who rushed past you out of the meeting early. He's headed back to the hospital where he's spent every day for the past month since his child's devastating diagnosis.

Don't judge the lady who turned away when you asked, "How are you?" She wasn't being rude; she was hiding her tears, still stunned by the slamming of the front door when her husband left home for the final time last night.

The quiet, sad young couple that no one knows lost tiny babies twins and had to borrow money to bury them. The doctor says their chance to have more children doesn't look good. They need a miracle and they're barely holding onto hope - and someone just took their seats.

Be kind, tenderhearted, and forgive one another as your God forgives you.

THE DEL RIO SURVIVORS

An important meeting for me is the 7am meeting on Del Rio Street in Temecula. When I first started going there the meeting was reading out of the 24 Hour book. Lately they have been reading out of the Daily Reflections. Del Rio has all the staples I love...sayings, tables, and coffee. Since I have been going there they have other staples, too, that I love. The names of these regulars are...Bob and Bob, Tom and Tom, Laurie, Mick, Mike, Mike, and Mike, Jim, Darryl, Eddie, Greg, John, Kim, and Ron, to name a few. I am grateful for these men and women whose attendance I can count on.

I like the way these alcoholics welcome the vans from ABT in the morning. I like the way they congregate after the meeting to get to know the newcomers. And I like the way they welcome everyone to spend a little more time with them at breakfast at a nearby restaurant. These people have become like a family.

More recently the Del Rio Street meeting has welcomed more meetings to their hall, now called The Del Rio Survivors. When walking in you will see the Lifeguard ring on the window and when sitting down you will read the saying on the wall...We Care. They certainly do. I am grateful to their nod to the part in the Big Book that reads, "We are like the passengers of a great liner the moment after rescue from shipwreck when camaraderie, joyousness and democracy pervade the vessel from steerage to Captain's table. Unlike the feelings of the ship's passengers, however, our joy in escape from disaster does not subside as we go our individual ways." (page 17) I am grateful that I survived the shipwreck of alcoholism in my life and found others who are happy, joyous, and free.

Check out the meeting schedule for those other meetings during the week if you are looking to enlarge your spiritual circle and want to meet some of the other passengers.

What is the Intergroup?

Each group is encouraged to have an Intergroup Representative. This person is the liaison between Intergroup and their home group. The Intergroup Central Office depends upon the local members and groups for the necessary support to carry out its responsibilities. This support comes in the form of volunteer help and financial contributions. Our efficiency and the continuation of services offered are related to the level of support from the groups. Please register your group at Central Office. Any A.A. member is welcome to attend the Intergroup or Board meeting as a guest.

If your group is interested in joining Intergroup, send a member to the meeting, and we will gladly give you all the information you need to get started.

"The Intergroup associations are the best insurance we can have that our life lines to the hundreds of thousands yet to come will never break or tangle. Let us always be generous. Let us warmly support Intergroup." AA co-founder Bill W. 1949

What you get from Central Office!

During the day, your Central Office keeps the doors open to assist recovering and suffering AA members alike and provide the following services: We provide the Big Book. We also provide the 12x12, assorted literature, chips, and newcomer packets. Your office manager organizes volunteers, makes sure the office is a healthy place for all, keeps your accounting data accurate, and safe guards your inventory. The office manager is there to support the groups and the individual members of our fellowship. We make and distribute your meeting schedules and we publish the Gratitude Gazette. Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, volunteers take calls from suffering alcoholics and organize 12 step calls. The phone line and special call-forwarding are paid for by your central office contributions. Please ask at your next business meeting if you are contributing monthly to your

Central Office. It doesn't have to be a lot. Being self-supporting means not only paying for your rent and coffee, but also paying for the services you receive through Central Office. If your group has stopped contributing (or never started), please bring it up at your next business meeting and take a group conscious. We value your input and want to make sure we understand what is going on in your group.

Central Office is in need of volunteers.

Step 11 suggests prayer and meditation. We shouldn't be shy in this matter of prayer. Better men than we are using it constantly. It works, if we have the proper attitude and work at it.

BRIDGING THE GAP

Bridging the Gap is designed to help an alcoholic between a treatment program or prison make the transition. One of the more slippery places in the journey to sobriety is between the door of a facility and the nearest AA group or meeting. AA experience suggests that attending meetings regularly is critical. In order to Bridge the Gap, AA members have volunteered to be temporary contacts & introduce newcomers to AA. It is suggested that the temporary contact take the newcomer to a variety of AA meetings; introduce him or her to other AA's; insure that he or she has some phone numbers of several AA members and share the experience of sponsorship and a home group.

Temecula Valley is in the process of coordinating this committee.
Volunteers are needed.
