Alcoholic Fog: AA Beacon
By Lyn P. Unity Hall

A heavy fog clouded my scattered, troubled thoughts during the wee hours of December 3, 2010. Relegated to a messy, disorganized, home office in my otherwise big, beautiful, well-kept abode, in my drunken mind, I was safely isolated amid strewn papers, unopened mail and boxes filled to the brim with legal files.

True, I had every intention of sifting through the insurmountable mess. Yes! That pile of personal business, over there in the corner, taunting and reminding me that my life had become utterly unmanageable. I'll get to all of 'it' after one more sip of tequila through the long straw placed in the bottle. Who needs a tumbler? Who needs a shot glass? The coffee will even out the morning buzz, right?

Sip of Cuervo, sip of coffee; Cuervo, coffee; Cuervo, coffee, and so it went. I'd awaken on the floor of my walk-in closet facing a painfully blank wall. I suppose I expected supernaturally written directions or a vision of some sort, instilling a sense of divine purpose, like in the movies.

Where's the burning bush? Where's the Calvary? Where are you, God?

My rationale for drinking in the early morning was that the initial euphoria helped me to address some agonizing business – life on life's terms. The rigorous truth is I was drinking all day, every day, but I didn't care. Of course, over the last six months of 2010, my mom had died, my elderly dad needed tending to and I was losing my lovely home to divorce. During 2009-2010, I was hospitalized, twice, for emergency appendectomies. Did you know an appendix stump can grow back? Neither did I and I'm an RN.

My young son was jostled between both his dad's new home and mine, adding to his seemingly infinite, out-of-town sport gigs assigned by his relentless dad. After my mom died in June, I didn't return to work as a contract healthcare provider because I couldn't stop crying long enough to do my job. I sorely wanted to go to work but I couldn't get there, either physically or emotionally, no matter how hard I tried. I declined contracts, perhaps erring on the safe side of doing nothing rather than showing up and carelessly conducting myself at the expense of another. Then apathy settled in, permeating my scant endeavors that were once so numerous, grandiose and accomplished.

I AM RESPONSIBLE

Whenever anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help, I want the hand of AA always to be there, and for that I am responsible.

When I drank...whatever, the alcohol immediately doused my scorching panic and lightened my heavy heart. By the time I arrived at Unity Hall, my eyes were black and blue from rubbing them so hard from crying during my frequent, fervent prayer sessions with God. Every evening, I'd jog for a couple of hours, trying to conjure up the solution for eradicating my dogged uncertainty, financial insecurity, deep humiliation, wretched contempt and inexplicable helplessness. I lost my appetite. I lost a lot of weight on my tall frame. I sported a red, blotchy, dour face that was once quite beautiful. Both my heart and my soul were shackled with hopelessness. By order of King Alcohol, I was pummeled and thrown into a bleak, spiritual dungeon with no chance of escape.

Finally, finally I mustered enough resolve to get dressed in my best sweat suit to attend a Friday, noon meeting, via a tell-tale, unmistakable, spiritual experience. I heard His still small voice lovingly say, "Stop everything. Begin with the last thing, first." I had been staring the straw leaning against the rim of a half-full bottle of the golden tequila. Through the liquid, I could see the merciful eyes of a framed image of Christ (my Higher Power) sitting on my desk. I intuitively knew I needed help with the drinking. My binges had gotten out of hand. I appeared at Unity Hall, bleary-eyed, resting my weary head on my folded arms on the table in front of me. I was inebriated and forlorn, still. I couldn't take another step. I surrender!

My name is Irene and I'm an alcoholic. Welcome to the noon meeting at Unity Hall. I've asked a friend to read the AA Preamble...

Scripts? They're reading scripts? I need a script, yesterday.

I've asked a friend to read a portion of Chapter five, 'How it Works.'

My name's Bob and I'm an alcoholic. Rarely have we seen a person fail who has thoroughly followed our path...One: We admitted we were powerless over alcohol and that our lives had become unmanageable.

How'd they know? Who told them?

God will do for us what we cannot do for ourselves.

Really? I've been asking Him for a long while. I give up. What are they talking about?

I have no idea what they're talking about. I don't care. Leave me alone. I'm drooling.

I need to rest my head in the other direction.

Can I get you some coffee, Lyn? Water? You're welcome.

They're so nice. Is there a test after the meeting? I can't remember what they just said. Sharing experience, strength and hope: She drank in the morning, too? Wow.

What's a court card? What's a Big Book?

Here's my number. Keep coming back.

What's this about? I desperately need and want help. I heard AA is the place to get it.

I stopped crying AND drinking after my first meeting, December 3, 2010. The chest pain from my heavy heart disappeared, right off the bat. My dad died in 2012. I've moved into another home in a different city up the road, apiece. I've entirely new, professional endeavors I've only dreamed of in my intrepid youth. The deep mire of the indescribably visceral, immobilizing pain and gyrating confusion vanished. Poof! Just like that.

One day at a time? The next indicated step? Keep coming back? The Promises? A Vision For You? I can't wait to get to meetings, primarily because I believe the fellowship understands me. Though I blather on at times, they patiently listen and kindly proffer suggestions on occasion. They allow me to be of service with commitments I can manage, granting me a huge sense of purpose that had mysteriously disappeared. Did I mention I stopped drooling? I'm looking up, these days. I no longer feel completely lost. I trust God as he miraculously helps me sift through the wreckage of my past in His time, with the help of the AA fellowship. I can attest to God's perfect intervention and planning.

I've never been arrested for a DUI, nor have I been disciplined via the workplace, though my sponsor suggested I place an attendance card in the basket. The pretty, flowery note card is a subtle reminder of all of the drunken times I came out unscathed. I framed the first card along with a newcomer's chip. I love placing the card in the basket as it marks time and my sober achievement, much like the prized birthday chips. When I forget to retrieve it after the meeting, a member of the fellowship either hands it to me or pins it to the hall's bulletin board. The gesture of tending to my silly card is one of the priceless gifts of the AA fellowship.

Thankfully, my licensures remain professionally fit because I recognized the insidious, destructive, beckoning chemical alternatives rising up to greet me in my selfish state. Two years, nine months later, seeking help in AA has been the best personal decision I've made in my entire life. In working the steps with my trusted sponsor, it turns out my drinking career is longstanding. No kidding, I never knew. I happily and easily sift through the resources, the meetings here and there, commitments, speaking, sharing and being of service.

The AA program transcends every aspect of my life. I wallow in easy, breezy, butterfly thoughts, generosity, healing, wisdom, fun, laughter (read: miracles) and friendships that I never imagined possible. I turned my will and my life over to the care of God as I understand Him. The beauty of sobriety is that the fog has lifted. I recognize God has understood and cared for me, all along, as evidenced by the peace and mercy washing over me every time I take a seat in AA - the perpetual beacon of hope. My name's Lyn and I'm an alcoholic. Keep coming back.

This Month's Meeting Focus

The Recovery Road Crew
 Thursday Nights from 7:00pm - 8:15pm
 Old Southwest Church
 28046 Del Rio, Ste. B, Temecula

Mixed meetings present a wonderful opportunity to observe and participate in AA as a unifying force in a casual atmosphere. I gravitated toward such meetings in early sobriety and still take much from the woman's perspective. Not until I was several years into sobriety did I discover the dynamic of men's meetings, and the depth of sharing encouraged in such groups - sharing that cannot be done in the presence of the fairer sex. "Guy" talk in closed men's meetings is not about vulgarity or sports, much to the disbelief of my wife, but instead focuses on the deep emotional connections made possible through the Steps of this program. I will forever be amazed when I hear another man speak of the love he feels toward a brother or spouse in the program, and I receive a great boost in energy and renewed dedication to being a good person when I leave the room.

The Recovery Road Crew men's stag meeting on Thursday nights from 7:00pm - 8:15pm held at the Del Rio Survivors clubhouse in Temecula is just the right mix of seasoned sobriety and newcomer, teacher and seeker that affords alcoholics of any length of sobriety to join in and feel a part of a greater whole. With a focus on Dr. Bob's take on this thing - sponsorship and quickly moving through the steps by remaining in the solution - the "Crew" welcomes all men to its ranks and will give those of you seeking a tried and true approach to this program a place to hang your hats.

This Month's Meeting Focus CONTINUED

Please come join us for an hour or so to be a part of something special within this program. We can never have too many newcomers and can always use some new teachers – whether you have 30 minutes or 30 years.

Geoff F.

What is the Intergroup?

Each group is encouraged to have an Intergroup Representative. This person is the liaison between Intergroup and their home group. The Intergroup Central Office depends upon the local members and groups for the necessary support to carry out its responsibilities. This support comes in the form of volunteer help and financial contributions. Our efficiency and the continuation of services offered are related to the level of support from the groups. Please register your group at Central Office. Any A.A. member is welcome to attend the Intergroup or Board meeting as a guest.

If your group is interested in joining Intergroup, send a member to the meeting, and we will gladly give you all the information you need to get started.

“The Intergroup associations are the best insurance we can have that our life lines to the hundreds of thousands yet to come will never break or tangle. Let us always be generous. Let us warmly support Intergroup.” AA co-founder Bill W. 1949

What you get from Central Office!

During the day, your Central Office keeps the doors open to assist recovering and suffering AA members alike and provide the following services: We provide the Big Book. We provide the 12x12, assorted literature, chips, and newcomer packets. Your office manager organizes volunteers, makes sure the office is a healthy place for all, keeps your accounting data accurate, and safe guards your inventory. The office manager is there to support the groups and the individual members of our fellowship. We make and distribute your meeting schedules and we publish the Gratitude Gazette. Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, volunteers take calls from suffering alcoholics and organize 12 step calls. The phone line and special call-forwarding are paid for by your central office contributions. Please ask at your next business meeting if you are contributing monthly to your

Central Office. It doesn't have to be a lot. Being self-supporting means not only paying for your rent and coffee, but also paying for the services you receive through Central Office. If your group has stopped contributing (or never started), please bring it up at your next business meeting and take a group conscious. Let us know when and how we can help.

Submissions

We would love to print your submissions for the Newsletter. The primary theme of any article content must pertain to; alcoholism and recovery, the Twelve Steps, The Twelve Traditions, or The Concepts. Poems, inspiring materials, AA trivia, jokes and cartoons are welcome also. Proper credit must be given to each articles source. If taken from previously printed materials include its copyright so that we can acknowledge it. The committee reserves the right to edit or refuse any articles submitted. All profanity will be edited out of the final copy. Please submit in plain text.

Step Twelve Guidelines

“12. Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to other alcoholics, and to practice these principles in all our affairs.”

How It Works

Practical experience shows that nothing will so much insure immunity from drinking as intensive work with other alcoholics. It works when other activities fail. This is our twelfth suggestion: Carry this message to other alcoholics! You can help when no one else can. You can secure their confidence when others fail. Remember they are very ill.

Life will take on new meaning. To watch people recover, to see them help others, to watch loneliness vanish, to see a fellowship grow up about you, to have a host of friends - this is an experience you must not miss. We know you will not want to miss it. Frequent contact with newcomers and with each other is the bright spot of our lives.

-A.A. Big Book p.89

More about Step 12 in the Big Book

Tradition Twelve

“12. Anonymity is the spiritual foundation of all our Traditions, ever reminding us to place principles before personalities. “

Question: Do you fully embrace the idea that anonymity is “the spiritual foundation of all our Traditions?”

Answers: Please send us your feedback.

BRIDGING THE GAP

Bridging the Gap is designed to help an alcoholic between a treatment program or prison make the transition. One of the more slippery places in the journey to sobriety is between the door of a facility and the nearest AA group or meeting. AA experience suggests that attending meetings regularly is critical. In order to Bridge the Gap, AA members have volunteered to be temporary contacts & introduce newcomers to AA. It is suggested that the temporary contact take the new-comer to a variety of AA meetings; introduce him or her to other AA's; insure that he or she has some phone numbers of several AA members and share the experience of sponsorship and a home group.

Temecula Valley is in the process of coordinating this committee.
Volunteers are needed.

Please call Central Office for more information (951) 695-1535
