Alcoholics Anonymous

I AM RESPONSIBLE

Whenever anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help, I want the hand of AA always to be there, and for that I am responsible.

- Declaration of 30th Anniversary International Convention, 1965

No Opinions?

Sometimes I don't really believe the things I say, I just like the sound of myself having opinions.

The A.A. 10th Tradition short form states, "Alcoholics Anonymous has no opinion on outside issues; hence the A.A. name ought never to be drawn into public controversy."

Traditions four, six, and ten provide us with guidance regarding purpose (4), lending the A.A. name (6), and positions on outside issues (10). Experience has taught us that when our society lends support or influence to a particular cause, we are bound to exclude some of our fellows and potentially erode away the foundation on which we were formed (our primary purpose).

If there is anything that can divide us, it is an opinion.

Immigration, gay marriage, gun laws, bacon vs. kale, NFL football, the Middle East, recovery centers, and taxes are just some topics that most everyone has an opinion.

If we can utilize the A.A. principals, grow spiritually and emotionally, refrain from opinions while involved in Alcoholics Anonymous, and stick with the primary purpose of helping the alcoholic who still suffers we will have a Fellowship that works.

When my opinions on outside issues such as my job, my wife, traffic, and the health benefits of bacon go against reality then I begin to think that if I can control those external factors everything will be OK. I must remember that if I am disturbed about something the problem lies within. Instead of focusing on my perceived problems with outside issues, as a recovering alcoholic who is determined to live free, I must search within and follow this "design for living" that really works.

Step 10

I don't like going to doctors. But this sponsor of mine has a rule: if it bleeds, swells, or hurts for more than twenty-four hours, call a doctor. So, "Call your doctor," was his suggestion when, one day, I casually mentioned a dull pain around my right ear, an annoyance more than anything, although at times it throbbed a bit. And no, I didn't know why it was hurting, though I thought it might have had something to do with swimming a couple days earlier and, yes, it had been going on for a few days. I've heard that some people do what their sponsors suggest at breakneck speed, but I'm not in that group. A week went by, and my sponsor said, "How's the pain? Have you called your doctor yet?" I answered the questions in order: "Still as it was, but not getting any worse" and, "No; I tried, but his phone was busy." Silence from him. Then: "Don't you think you need to do a little more work on your Tenth Step?" Tenth Step? What did the Tenth Step have to do with it? Personal inventory. . .when wrong. . .admitted it. What did this have to do with an earache? "Just read the Step," he suggested. "You've heard the words at every meeting. But maybe you need to understand more of what they mean." So I did what was suggested. Not at breakneck speed, of course, but I did it. "Continued to take personal inventory": "Continued" was easy enough, since it refers to an ongoing process I do frequently--sometimes daily or even minute-by-minute. "Inventory" was also easy. It was an echo of the Fourth Step, where I did an inventory of myself. But then I noticed a difference. It was always there, so how did I miss it? In the Fourth Step, the inventory was "moral"; in the Tenth Step, it is "personal." Was the different wording significant? Perhaps it was; perhaps more than I'd first noticed. Bill W. warned us against complacency or self congratulation ("After Twenty-Five Years," Grapevine, March 1960) and reminded us that, unless we keep growing, we fall back. It seems to me that one of the major purposes of the last three Steps is to keep us from complacency, to keep us growing so that we don't fall back into our old, sick ways and perhaps even into active alcoholism. Of course, that growth needs to continue on the moral level and we need to "inventory" it. But my inventory, and growth, also need to include all that I am as a "person," and that includes my spiritual, mental, emotional, and physical dimensions, to say nothing of how I relate to other people. And so, taking a "personal" inventory means that I attend to all aspects of myself, of my "person," including, but not only, the "moral" part of me.

"And when we were wrong, promptly admitted it." Over the years, how often had I heard that line and misunderstood it? At first, I thought that it meant to pay attention only to my faults or character defects. But that's not what the Step says; and, in fact, in the "Twelve and Twelve," Bill W. writes that we need to be aware not only of our limitations, defects, and shortcomings, but also of our strengths, talents, and successes. In short, we need to take a balanced approach to ourselves. Should my "personal inventory" reveal that I am off-balance in any aspect of myself, I should "promptly admit it." "Admit it": This is not a mere acknowledgment that something about my person is off-balance, that some aspect of me needs correcting, but, once that's done, I must take action on restoring the balance. From first to last, AA is a of program of action. It is not particularly useful for me simply to admit that some aspect of myself needs correcting and then to do nothing about it.

Admission that something is the matter is the doorway to growth; but there will be no growth unless I follow up the admission with action. My meditation on the Tenth Step showed me some powerful ways of applying it to my life that I had not seen before. Since alcoholism is an illness that affects all aspects of me, recovery from alcoholism must then include all aspects of me. For me, working the Tenth Step properly means being attentive to my moral growth--as well as my spiritual life, my mental and physical health, my emotional well-being, and my relationships with others. Should I find anything "wrong" about any of these aspects of me, I need to correct it as soon as I can. "How's the pain now?" my sponsor asked some weeks later. "Gone," I replied. "Ear infection. Good antibiotics. Good doctor." And, I thought, Great Tenth Step!

PEACE OF MIND AND A QUIET HEART

In my early days of sobriety, in a small group in Los Angeles Ca., I was hearing a lot of words that were unfamiliar to me and I didn't pay much attention to them at the time since I had bigger fish to fry. I had a drinking problem and everything else took a back seat to that. I was overwhelmed by marital, legal, responsibility, and economic problems. Words like love, patience, spirituality, and forgiveness were foreign to me and I didn't see how they mattered when all I wanted to do was quit drinking. I stayed close to that group and they started calling me the fortunate one. At the age of 28, I was the youngest one in that group and that stayed that way for quite a while as drug problems hadn't evolved enough at the time (1969) to affect the influx of younger members. I felt like the elders of that group took a special interest in me and that endeared me to them in a special way.

I was always listening for the magic word that would inspire me and give me a purpose in life and one day it happened. Tears came to my eyes when I recall the memory of the gentle voice of an old farmer named Harlan. As he talked about all of the trials and tribulations in the past, that he had endured, he explained how he had stumbled into A.A. and that all the answers were there, but he didn't understand it until he had a goal to reach for, and the next words that came out of his mouth changed my life forever. He said "ALL I WANT FROM LIFE IS PEACE OF MIND AND A QUIET HEART". The next thought that came to me was, what more could a person want? To this day, I still quote Harlan and credit him with the inspiration. He passed away in 2007 being sober 51 years.

I have been through the big book and the 12x12 many times and have made a slow but very purposeful attempt to rid my mind of all the tormenting memories and regrets of the past, and as I processed each and every one of them, the more I realize that peace of mind is the natural result of living by these principals. Clearing the wreckage of the past, and changing those behaviors that caused it, and practicing unselfish behaviors, with the help of seasoned veterans like Harlan, I move closer and closer to the promise: We will comprehend the word serenity and we will know peace.

My books are marked and highlighted over the years as I evolved through the step study meetings or checked out the references to the big book in the Daily Reflections. Recently I have been focusing on the word peace and underlining it, and it is amazing how often it is linked to other words that seem to get more attention. Peace of mind encompasses the spirit of recovery in alcoholics anonymous and I will be forever grateful that God saw fit to lead me to this wonderful program. Harlan, rest in peace and thank you for the inspiration.

The Sapphire Princess 28 Day Polynesian Cruise
 (This is the 3rd installment)

Step 6. I have lost more sponsees at Steps 6 & 7 recently. The Steps are a recipe, not a menu.

Step 6 is the willingness. Can I let go of the garbage? I don't know if I want to grow up. Have you heard of me? His Majesty? The Baby?

What parts of my life are still agnostic?

Willingness is, yet another, surrender. I need to get out of the way. Give up who you have constructed yourself to be. We want to run away from ourselves. I want to comfort and well-being. I cannot afford justifiable and prideful anger and negative reactions. I need to pause and look at how to alter my attitude. When I pick up an old defect I become uncomfortable. I didn't trust God enough to remove my defects. Defects are like a box of puppies. I would like to take one out and play with it, then another, and another, until all control is lost and chaos reigns. I have learned I can choose to be free of fear. I stopped going to Step Studies when I became comfortable enough. And I learned that nothing changes if nothing changes. The more engaged in the program, the more I got out of it. I don't go into interior rages anymore. The Serenity Prayer saved my butt countless times. If I have done the 3rd Step then my spouse is no longer my business. All negative emotions come from fear. Am I spiritually awake? I can't think my way into right living. The 4th Dimension is the spiritual dimension. If I truly give up a character defect it's not supposed to come back, is it? I need some character defects to work on. I need to give myself positive affirmation when I do well. God forgives me no matter what I do and if I don't forgive myself then I am placing myself above God.

Relapse last longer than slips. What did I not do that resulted in my going out? We are extremists. We self-mutilate when we don't get it right. Whatever makes me angry takes my power away from me. The Steps bring me back to my core, to my being. When I drink I murder my better self. When I drink I don't live in reality. I didn't like reality anyway. I didn't pray, or go to meetings, or read The Big Book, or call another AAer. I isolated, my world became smaller and I lived in fear. I couldn't leave my block. I became a prisoner. I was asked to about whom I was praying to? I learned that God is a mystery...and I did not have to know him. I slipped because I began to feel better and stopped going to meetings.

What had I forgotten?

There is not an alcoholic who has survived The Steps who is stupid...but slips are stupid, right? I rediscovered the meetings that give me the sustenance I need. I love AA now! I feel connected. My first AA meeting found me in a place where I wanted to stay. No one wanted to throw me out and I had been thrown out of a lot of places. I felt safe and started to develop better feelings about myself. My family began to treat me better and my neighbors even began to talk to me again.

The only reason we are able to be on this cruise is because of AA. Now I can go anywhere. I am free. These meetings onboard are the highlight of my cruise experience. "There is a soul force in the universe that if we permit and pursue it will flow through us and produce miraculous results." Gandhi.

Life is lived forward and understood backward. The measure of my sobriety isn't the distance between now the last drink. The measure of my sobriety is between now and my next drink.

What is the Intergroup?

Each group is encouraged to have an Intergroup Representative. This person is the liaison between Intergroup and their home group. The Intergroup Central Office depends upon the local members and groups for the necessary support to carry out its responsibilities. This support comes in the form of volunteer help and financial contributions.

Our efficiency and the continuation of services offered are related to the level of support from the groups. Please register your group at Central Office. Any A.A. member is welcome to attend the Intergroup or Board meeting as a guest. If your group is interested in joining Intergroup, send a member to the meeting, and we will gladly give you all the information you need to get started.

"The Intergroup associations are the best insurance we can have that our life lines to the hundreds of thousands yet to come will never break or tangle. Let us always be generous.
Let us warmly support Intergroup."

BRIDGING THE GAP

Bridging the Gap is designed to help an alcoholic between a treatment program or prison make the transition. One of the more slippery places in the journey to sobriety is between the door of a facility and the nearest AA group or meeting. AA experience suggests that attending meetings regularly is critical. In order to Bridge the Gap, AA members have volunteered to be temporary contacts & introduce newcomers to AA. It is suggested that the temporary contact take the newcomer to a variety of AA meetings; introduce him or her to other AA's; insure that he or she has some phone numbers of several AA members and share the experience of sponsorship and a home group.

What you get from Central Office!

During the day, your Central Office keeps the doors open to assist recovering and suffering AA members alike and provide the following services: We provide the Big Book. We provide the 12x12, assorted literature, chips, and newcomer packets. Your office manager organizes volunteers, makes sure the office is a healthy place for all, keeps your accounting data accurate, and safe guards your inventory. The office manager is there to support the groups and the individual members of our fellowship. We make and distribute your meeting schedules and we publish the Gratitude Gazette.

Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, volunteers take calls from suffering alcoholics and organize 12 step calls. The phone line and special call-forwarding are paid for by your central office contributions.

Please ask at your next business meeting if you are contributing monthly to your Central Office. It doesn't have to be a lot. Being self-supporting means not only paying for your rent and coffee, but also paying for the services you receive through Central Office.

If your group has stopped contributing (or never started), please bring it up at your next business meeting and take a group conscience.

Let us know when and how we can help.

Step 10 Guidelines

Continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong promptly admitted it.

How It Works

This thought brings us to Step Ten, which suggests we continue to take personal inventory and continue to set right any new mistakes as we go along. We vigorously commenced this way of living as we cleaned up the past. We have entered the world of the Spirit. Our next function is to grow in understanding and effectiveness. This is not an overnight matter. It should continue for our lifetime. Continue to watch for selfishness, dishonesty, resentment, and fear. When these crop up, we ask God at once to remove them. We discuss them with someone immediately and make amends quickly if we have harmed anyone. Then we resolutely turn our thoughts to someone we can help. Love and tolerance of others is our code.
