Alcoholics Anonymous

I AM RESPONSIBLE

Whenever anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help, I want the hand of AA always to be there, and for that I am responsible.

- Declaration of 30th Anniversary International Convention, 1965

THE A.A. ROCK TUMBLER

I started drinking at the age of 14 and never once was I considered to be a normal drinker. I drank for oblivion every day from the start. At first I was what they referred to as a "lamp shade drunk". As time went by and my tolerance level improved I got better at it. There were times that I could drink from 6am till I closed the bar at 2am the next night and you couldn't tell I was drinking unless you smelled the alcohol on my breath. At that time I thought I had reached the pinnacle and everything was right with the world, then things started going wrong. I couldn't remember what happened past midnight, then 10 pm. Then people started telling me what I did last night in a blackout and it wasn't very flattering. My wife took my son and left me. I drank for 2 more years before I reached bottom. On Oct. 15, 1969 I entered A.A. and have been sober have never wanted a drink since.

I was very fortunate in my early days of sobriety; to be counseled by several men in that group that understood how to get a better perspective for living through taking the 12 steps. They explained that each step has a specific objective and that they were put in order for a purpose, and that I should do the steps in the spirit that they were intended to be taken and that I should not modify them to suit my own selfish interests. I also learned that they were not a punishment or a penance, but they were the answer to all the things that plagued me and that if I want to find peace, I should not look for loopholes. I took their guiding principles with me and, being in the U.S. Navy at the time, duty called and I had to leave the safety of that wonderful group.

In order to carry on with the things that they had taught me, I came to the conclusion that if I were planning to attend X number of meetings per week, then one of them should be an A.A. step study meeting, and I have been attending one, weekly, ever since. That amounts to reviewing the 12 steps 4 times per year for over 45 years. One might think that it would get boring after awhile but every time we review each step it seems that we are at a different level of understanding and we see something that “we never noticed before” and we can measure the progress we have made. We hear that at every meeting. It’s like the rocks in a rock tumbler. They go in rough and craggy, and as they go through cycle after cycle, the rough edges erode away very gradually, and with time they get closer and closer to the shape that we had envision.

I believe that, if a person goes through this process in the spirit that it was intended, the steps will unfold and guide a person to a life of peace and happiness. At least that’s what I have found. It amounts to “the maintenance of my spiritual condition”. That sack of rocks (which turns out to be a few big rocks and a million pebbles) gets lighter and lighter, and one pebble at a time I rid myself of those things that bother me. With that in mind, I ask myself, why wouldn’t I do it, after all, I only live once. Am I willing to live my life unhappy? I don’t want to look back on my life and regret having wasted this precious gift. I must summon the courage to take the risk and not let fear stop me from letting the ROCK TUMBLER do its work. One step study meeting a week. It’s THAT simple.

Intolerance is but a Symptom

Angela H, Garden of Hope

"Our liquor was but a symptom. So we had to get down to causes and conditions." (BB pg. 64; 4th Edition)

When I find myself responding to others in an intolerant or judgmental manner it is usually a symptom of something misfiring within my own personality. It has been a hard, slow lesson for me to learn that digging a hole in which to stuff my feelings is a very ineffective coping mechanism. The fears that I have tried to bury have a way of oozing to the surface wearing the most inventive disguises. One of these costumes is intolerance. If I am attempting to avoid seeing my true nature because I find some aspect of my character intolerable, then I am likely to view those traits in others in the same light. When I have difficulty facing myself in the mirror, God provides me with many "mirrors" in the people I interact with on a daily basis.

I have found that working the Steps helps me to grow in tolerance and compassion for myself and others. I am bound to make many mistakes while "trudging the road of happy destiny" which helps me realize that other people also have the right to be imperfect. There is an undeniable humility that results from taking an honest moral inventory and admitting my wrongs. In my experience, I cannot have genuine, loving tolerance of other people without humility. Since nearly all of the principles of the Program are contrary to my natural instincts, in practicing these principles (hopefully in all of my affairs), humility and thus tolerance are natural by-products. If I start noticing an increased level of intolerance for people, it is a sure sign that I have veered off the path of this new way of life.

My default response to anything undesirable is avoidance, so I will often ignore a feeling, behavior, warning sign, etc. until it becomes unbearably painful. In regards to my tolerance level, this means that I often do not notice I am in trouble until the very fact that other people who are breathing the same air as me becomes unacceptable. When I stand in self-righteous judgment of others it is a symptom that I have lost all perspective on where I came from and Who brought me to this new way of life. It certainly was not due to my own power that I got sober and came to Alcoholics Anonymous. Remembering that truth and allowing it to infuse every thought and action, is usually all it takes to bring my tolerance levels back up to par.

"Live and let live" is my motto for growing 'in tolerance' instead of 'intolerance'. In order to let people be wherever they are in their lives, I need to recognize that, tomorrow or ten minutes from now, I just might arrive at the same exact place. Yet again...acceptance is the answer!

Step 11

“Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.”

Our recovery allows us to live life to its fullest. For many of us, this is a new experience. The temptation is always there to turn to serious prayer and meditation only when the going gets rough.

In Step XI, we learn that improving our conscious contact with God on a daily basis through self-examination, meditation and prayer is an unshakable foundation for life in good times and in bad.

Prayer is like doing spiritual sit-ups. When we are consciously connected to our Higher Power, we are keeping ourselves in good shape. The prayer of St. Francis offers us a beautiful goal to strive for.

May I take direction from the Eleventh Step and seek to understand, more than to be understood. Each day we can become a channel of His peace if we but pause and make the simple request: “Thy will, not mine, be done”. We in AA learn not to fall into the old habit of making itemized lists for God with all of our pleas and complaints. I used to tell God how huge and how many my problems were. Now I am able to tell my problem how huge my God is.

Persistent prayers in this humble fashion have found strength, wisdom, peace of mind and a quality of sobriety they cherish. Those who remain skeptical and cannot receive the power of prayer and a conscious contact with God are those who haven't prayed enough. Enough being the operative word. Step XI allows the most skeptical the opportunity to give prayer a chance. Take time out from the life you've been given in recovery for God as you understand Him. He is listening.

Tradition 11

“Our relations with the general public should be characterized by personal anonymity. We think A.A. ought to avoid sensational advertising. Our names and pictures as A.A. members ought not be broadcast, filmed, or publicly printed. Our public relations should be guided by the principle of attraction rather than promotion. There is never need to praise ourselves. We feel it better to let our friends recommend us.” (long form)

A.A. TRADITIONS AND THE INTERNET

We observe all A.A.’s principles and Traditions on A.A. Web sites.

Anonymity—as anonymity is the “spiritual foundation of all our Traditions,” we practice anonymity on public Web sites at all times.

Unless password-protected and for members only, an A.A. Web site is a public medium, and, therefore, requires the same safeguards that we use at the level of press, radio and film. In simplest form, this means that A.A.s do not identify themselves as A.A. members using their full names or full face photos. For more information in anonymity on-line, see the section of this Guideline, “Guarding Anonymity Online.”

GUARDING ANONYMITY ONLINE

Modern communication in A.A. is flowing from one alcoholic to another in ways that are high-tech, relatively open-ended and evolving quickly.

Protecting anonymity is a major concern for members, who are accessing the internet in ever growing numbers.

When we use digital media, we are responsible for our own anonymity and that of others. When we post, text, or blog, we should assume that we are publishing at the public level. When we break our anonymity in these forums, we may inadvertently break the anonymity of others.

For more information on anonymity online see pamphlet “Understanding Anonymity” and the October 2010 issue of AA Grapevine on Anonymity on the Internet.

Friends of Dr. Bob and Bill W. meeting notes aboard the Sapphire Princess 28 day Polynesia Cruise
(4th Installment)

Attitude. Other people are not the problem. My attitude is the problem. I don't have to look very far to find my character defects. The only thing I did right in this program is listen. Middle if the road and balance can be a struggle for us extremists. We find it is easy to love but to love well is another matter for us. My hand is always willing to help another alcoholic in distress. On awakening the book tells us exactly what to do. My favorite source of information is eavesdropping. I listen better when I do that. It's important for me to remember H.A.L.T. You can want what you want all you want. When you come in here you'll get what you need. Being in service changes my attitude about a lot of things. When I pray my attitude softens.

Honesty. That meant so much to my sobriety. I must tell the truth and I have to hear the truth. Listening is so powerful and so important. When I struggled you listened. I'm pretty honest but I exaggerate a lot. We state our sobriety date or length of sobriety to give the newcomer hope. If you can remember your last drunk you haven't had it yet. If I don't have a good time where I'm at I move my feet. There is no self knowledge without honesty. There is a competitive person inside me. I didn't know I didn't know how to live. I would have died if I continued to hang around people who told me what I wanted to hear. You guys were honest with me exactly when I needed it. Now there is no point in being dishonest. I need other people to tell me the truth. I can find this in A.A. through the process of inventory work (4th Step) and sharing with another (5th Step) I learned how to be honest with myself. Dishonesty steals emotional sobriety.

One Day at a Time. A few swigs of the bottle and the future didn't matter anymore. Some of my best successes are failures that didn't happen. I am told to stay in today or to S.I.T. Ninety nine percent of my thoughts are what can go wrong in the future. A.A. is training me to stay in today. I am weighed down from the ghosts of the past and the demons of the future. Did you drink yesterday's drink today? Did you drink tomorrow's drink today? You have practiced staying in today. One day at a time means my daily reprieve is depending on the maintenance of my spiritual condition. To live in the moment is one of the great gifts of A.A. Beyond one day at a time and I was into projecting. As Mark Twain once wrote, "I've been through some tenable things in my life, some of which actually happened." I've learned how not to mind your business. I don't try to solve someone else's problem. I've got cancer and I'm going to live. I'm going to live, at least for today. LIVE AND LET LIVE.

What is the Intergroup?

Each group is encouraged to have an Intergroup Representative. This person is the liaison between Intergroup and their home group. The Intergroup Central Office depends upon the local members and groups for the necessary support to carry out its responsibilities. This support comes in the form of volunteer help and financial contributions. Our efficiency and the continuation of services offered are related to the level of support from the groups. Please register your group at Central Office. Any A.A. member is welcome to attend the Intergroup or Board meeting as a guest. If your group is interested in joining Intergroup, send a member to the meeting, and we will gladly give you all the information you need to get started.

“The Intergroup associations are the best insurance we can have that our life lines to the hundreds of thousands yet to come will never break or tangle. Let us always be generous.
Let us warmly support Intergroup.”

BRIDGING THE GAP

Bridging the Gap is designed to help an alcoholic between a treatment program or prison make the transition. One of the more slippery places in the journey to sobriety is between the door of a facility and the nearest AA group or meeting. AA experience suggests that attending meetings regularly is critical. In order to Bridge the Gap, AA members have volunteered to be temporary contacts & introduce newcomers to AA. It is suggested that the temporary contact take the newcomer to a variety of AA meetings; introduce him or her to other AA's; insure that he or she has some phone numbers of several AA members and share the experience of sponsorship and a home group.

What you get from Central Office!

During the day, your Central Office keeps the doors open to assist recovering and suffering AA members alike and provide the following services: We provide the Big Book. We provide the 12x12, assorted literature, chips, and newcomer packets. Your office manager organizes volunteers, makes sure the office is a healthy place for all, keeps your accounting data accurate, and safe guards your inventory. The office manager is there to support the groups and the individual members of our fellowship. We make and distribute your meeting schedules and we publish the Gratitude Gazette. Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, volunteers take calls from suffering alcoholics and organize 12 step calls. The phone line and special call-forwarding are paid for by your central office contributions. Please ask at your next business meeting if you are contributing monthly to your

Central Office. It doesn't have to be a lot. Being self-supporting means not only paying for your rent and coffee, but also paying for the services you receive through Central Office. If your group has stopped contributing (or never started), please bring it up at your next business meeting and take a group conscious. Let us know when and how we can help.
Your Central Office Team

Central Office appreciates ALL of their volunteers.

Step 11 Guidelines

Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood God, praying only for knowledge of God's will for us and the power to carry that out.

How It Works

Step 11 suggests prayer and meditation. We shouldn't be shy in this matter of prayer. Better men than we are using it constantly. It works, if we have the proper attitude and work at it.
